

Syracuse P-TECH student Travius Berkley works with mechanical assembler, Brock Nason, while interning at G.A. Braun. He is assembling a spread rail assembly for a sheet feeder. The machine feeds bed sheets into an ironer.

Syracuse P-TECH junior Chris Sheridan assists with scanning and filing of engineering documents while interning at Cryomech; Also shown are Brian Stoddard (in back) and Nigel Ottman, who supervised the student during his internship.

Syracuse P-TECH students Ailiyah Morris and Brian Bell interned at PPC for two weeks over the summer, performing light assembly and packaging parts for shipment.

Syracuse P-TECH student Zack Thompson works on intricate repairs during his internship at United Radio.

While at Dupli Graphics, P-TECH student Victoria Kingsley assisted the Accounting department; also pictured is John Hudak, VP of Operations.

P-TECH student Beth Gordon was involved in taking inventory during her internship at WestRock. The centrally located storeroom gave her direct access to the company's parts, mechanical and electrical techs. Pictured with her are Left to Right: Jim Petrocci and Justin Heath from WestRock.

Auburn P-TECH student Will Townsend is ultrasonic welding two pieces of plastic while interning at Bo-Mer Plastics.